

White House Conference on Aging – July 13, 2015

The White House Conference on Aging (WHCoA) was hosted by President Obama in the White House on July 13, 2015. While less than 200 persons received personal invitations, many more watched the proceedings on-line from over 700 “watch parties” across the nation.

In a year that marks the 50th anniversary of Medicare, Medicaid, and the Older Americans Act, as well as the 80th anniversary of Social Security, the White House Conference on Aging is an opportunity to recognize the importance of these programs, highlight new actions to support Americans as we age and focus on the powerful role that technology can play in the lives of older Americans in the decade ahead.

WHCoA's are held every decade beginning in 1961. For a list of recommendations from the 2015 White House Conference on Aging Click here.
